

HKDCS PAST ACTIVITIES – EXHIBITIONS / GAME BOOTH

2009 - The Big Blue Multimedia Exhibition

Invited by the National Geographic Channel (NGC), the Hong Kong Dolphin Conservation Society (HKDCS) helped to organize the Big Blue Multimedia Exhibition at Hong Kong IFC mall from 22 to 29 May, 2009. During the exhibition, Dr. Samuel Hung, Chairman of HKDCS, helped to provide local cetacean information for educational displays, attended media event and proofread the Chinese script of the National Geographic documentary “Big Blue”. In addition, Dr. Hung and his research associate, Ms. Keira Yau, also hosted a series of sharing sessions, introducing the ecology and conservation of cetaceans around the world to hundreds of attendants.

2009 - Ocean and Dive Festival

The East Point City at Tseung Kwan O held the “Loveth Thy Neighbour Ocean & Dive Festival” from August 1-23, 2009. Exhibits included the skull of finless porpoise and bottlenose dolphin, introduction to cetaceans occurred in Hong Kong waters, as well as exhibits on ocean and diving. HKDCS was one of the supporting organizations to the event and provided the cetacean skulls as well as information on cetaceans.

2006 - Chinese White Dolphin Exhibition at Cityplaza, Taikoo Shing

The Chinese White Dolphin Exhibition, which was held by the Hong Kong Dolphin

Conservation Society and the Swire Properties, was completed with great success. This exhibition consisted of a number of dolphin panels and photographs, including photos of Chinese white dolphins in Hong Kong (provided by Mr. Samuel Hung), and other cetaceans from other parts of the world (provided by renowned photojournalists Mr. Stephen Wong and his wife Ms. Takako Uno).

The event was held from 7th to 17th April 2006, which coincided with the Easter Holiday, so the exhibition drew scores of visitors. And, people were even queuing up for the dolphin computer game kiosks. In addition, a series of talks were held during the public holidays from 14th to 17th April, which covered a number of dolphin conservation issues. We believe that the public should have got a good chance to understand more about our dolphin friend through this event.

We would like to thank Mr. Stephen Wong and Ms. Takako Uno again for providing their extraordinary whale and dolphin photos; and Agriculture, Fisheries and Conservation Department for providing the dolphin CD-Rom for the game kiosks; and the Swire Properties.

2005 - Tung Chung Game booth & Exhibition

HKDCS was invited by the SKH Tung Chung Integrated Services to participate in their Recycling Carnival on 30 July 2005 by providing game booth and exhibition panels to educate the public on dolphin conservation. Our game is to identify the differences between dolphin and fish within a short time. All the participants, both adults and children, had an enjoyable time.

2004 - Whale and Dolphin Photo Exhibition at Maritime Square, Tsing Yi

Hong Kong Dolphin Conservation Society has held a photo exhibition "Cetaceans - A Showcase of Dolphins and Whales in Hong Kong and around the World" from 1 - 9 November 2004 at the Maritime Square, Tsing Yi. There were over 40 photos on display, including those of Chinese white dolphins, which were taken by Mr. Samuel Hung, and those of other cetacean species around the world, which were taken by renowned photojournalists, Mr. Stephen Wong and his wife Ms. Takako Uno. A wide range of species like the humpback whale, orca, sperm whale, beluga, spinner dolphin, Risso's dolphin and spotted dolphin were included. These stunning photos lured over 7,000 visitors altogether during the nine-day period to stop by at the exhibition, which was beyond our expectation! This shows that quite a number of Hong Kong people do really love and care about these marine creatures!

We would like to thank once again Mr. Stephen Wong and Ms. Takako Uno for lending us their cetacean photos and providing support to us!
